

Where the Wind Blows

Using the cloud image attached, think of something that describes who you are, what you like, or don't like, or something about your family and culture

Examples :

I play a musical instrument, my family moved from another country, I speak another language besides english, I have a pet at home, etc.

Each student should write their description above the clouds and then post the cloud images around the room. The class should then move around the room and sign their name in the clouds where they relate to the description or share that trait.
